The Time Cavern Named 2009 National Indie Excellence Book Award Finalist!

Beverly Hills, CA (May 18, 2009) –The 2009 National Indie Excellence Award Winners & Finalists were announced. The Time Cavern was chosen as a finalist in the highly competitive Young Adult Category.

The National Indie Excellence Awards (NIEA) are designed to bring recognition to titles from independent publishers. The respected and prestigious awards program celebrates excellence in independent publishing. The competition is judged by an independent panel of experts from all aspects editing, marketing, publicity, and design of the publishing industry.

Founder Ellen Reid, a strong proponent of independent publishing, believes it is essential for smaller publishers and authors to have a prestigious platform to receive well-deserved recognition.

The Indie Excellence Awards review thousands of new books from independent publishers across the USA, Reid said.
